Weddings in Amritsar

Few pilgrimage sites in the world elicit the sort of awe and reverence that Amritsar does. Apart from being the spiritual home of Sikhism, Amritsar has witnessed a disproportionately – given its size - tumultuous history. But, despite the vicissitudes, it never lost its uniquely north Punjabi, rurally-shaped character. The city now boasts an international airport, international hotel chains and malls stocking the latest wares but life still revolves around traditions and, of course, the splendid Harmandir Sahib (a.k.a. The Golden Temple).

Jallianwallah Bagh and the Partition Museum might be sombre reminders of the city and India's history but Amritsaris are proud of their heritage and the contributions of their ancestors to the birth of the country.

To visit the Temple as a newly-married couple is truly a blessed start to a life together. But, Amritsar isn't all about piety and contemplation; Punjabis like to eat well and drink even better (for them, whiskey 'n tandoori food is a match made in heaven!) so you're sure to eat well during your stay in Amritsar, whether it's at a restaurant or dhabba.

Amritsar is the perfect destination for couples, especially Punjabi and Sikh couples, who want to experience the ambience of a small town and big Punjabi hearts, while basking in the life-affirming radiance of Harmandir Sahib.

There's far more to Amritsar than can be covered in our mini-brochure but we hope you find it useful. Of course, we're happy to answer questions and make suggestions.

Best Time To Get Married In Amritsar:
Late October to Late March

Ideal For:
Couples proud of their Sikh/Punjabi heritage; couples who enjoy boisterous Punjabi hospitality; couples with big appetities- Punjabi cuisine is very filling! You'll have to dance late in to the night to work it off! Balle, balle!

About us

Vishni Weddings & Honeymoons is a subsidiary of UK-based Druveeniya Events Ltd.

We like to think of ourselves as a tiny company that can conjure (we deliberately chose that verb as we believe weddings should be magical) up big Indian weddings...and little ones...and everything in between!

We want to organise an unforgettable wedding for our clients. Weddings can be uncomplicated and stressful events, especially so in India with its unique and idiosyncratic work ethics and characteristics. With its partnerships with experienced and reputable wedding organisers, Destination Management Companies and hotels in India, VW&Hs can plan and execute weddings and honeymoons to fulfil clients' wishes and, more importantly, do the heavy lifting. After all, we want our clients to save their energies for the festivities!

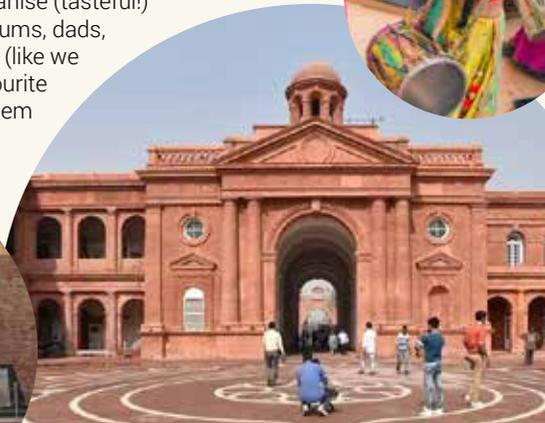

Why choose VW&H?

- » As we're a UK-registered and insured company, our clients are afforded the full protection of the UK's consumer protection legislation.
- » We're fully insured by Hiscox and we're represented by Harbottle & Lewis in the U.K, Amineddoleh & Associates in the U.S. and WeirFoulds in Canada. We maintain the very highest standards of compliance and transparency in the way we conduct our business. In fact, we're so confident of our professionalism that we encourage prospective clients to first shop around to see if they can find a wedding & honeymoon organiser anywhere in the world that matches our observance of best practices.

What other services do you offer?

- » We might be a small company but we offer a wide array of services. For example, we can assist with choosing locations, designing cards and gifts, websites etc.
- » We don't just organise weddings...we also organise (tasteful!) bachelor and bachelorette parties that your mums, dads, uncles, aunties and grandparents would enjoy (like we said earlier, "family-centric"). If you have a favourite DJ or band let us know and we'll try and get them for your event/s.

Business Hours: We take your wedding plans very seriously so we're open 'til late (8pm), seven days a week.

Registered Address: 7 Plaza Parade, London NW6 5RP, London, England.
